

Variety Show

One Day Like This....

As I'm sure you all know by now, I am organising a Variety Show in aid of the Lesotho project. The theme of the show is One Day Like This (from the Elbow song) and we are expanding this to include one day of fundraising - May 8th.

The fourth year music classes are organising a lot of the events, some of which include face painting, cake sale, bracelets, baby-pictures of teachers, a photo booth, sponsored cycling, copper coin collection and much more!

Some of you may already have been accosted by students demanding baby pictures - apologies!

The general idea is that we set up the hall on the Wednesday in the style of a fete and call the classes out by year group.

I would really appreciate it if you could mention to the tutor classes to bring in any copper money they can spare on the day. Also each 'stall' will only be charging 50 cent so we are hoping the students will respond positively and raise as much money as possible.

Many thanks in advance for your support which is greatly appreciated as always, and apologies for any disruption - all offers of help will of course be gratefully accepted but no pressure!
